

Exhibit 3

Lower Fox River Remediation LLC “Construction of the Processing Facility” Webpage

Project Overview

Attention Boaters & Anglers

Project Milestones

Photo Gallery

Key Players

Documents

Links

Media Room

In the Community

Contact Us

Construction of the Processing Facility

Filter press installation concluded in March 2009

Tank installation in March 2009

Tank installation in February 2009

Installation of eight of the world's largest membrane filter presses continued in January 2009

Work on the hydrocyclone in January 2009

Carbon filters are part of the water treatment area of the processing facility

Work to enclose the building continued in December 2008

Installation of the filter presses in November 2008

A view of the filter presses from the water treatment area in November 2008

The end pieces of the membrane filter presses are lifted into place

The daily workforce at the site averaged 140 people over the course of the construction project

A view of the construction site in September 2008

Walls are placed as construction of the processing facility continues

Early construction in September 2008

Site work for the Green Bay
Processing Facility at 1611 State Street began in summer 2008

Click here for photos of the cleanup operations and other project activities.

©2012 Fox River Cleanup Project

created using: buildmyownsite.com